

Synchrono® Receives Technology Partner Award from Frost & Sullivan Manufacturing Leadership Council

Demand-Driven Manufacturing Platform Recognized as a Catalyst for Operational Excellence and Driving the Industrial Internet of Things

ST. PAUL, Minn. – June 9, 2015 – Synchrono®, a leader in demand-driven manufacturing software, received the Frost & Sullivan Manufacturing Leadership Council’s Technology Partner Award. The honor was presented at the Frost & Sullivan Manufacturing Leadership Awards Gala held on June 4, 2015 in Carlsbad, California.

Synchrono was recognized for its Demand-Driven Manufacturing Platform which was the technology that also enabled client Orbital ATK to win a Frost & Sullivan Manufacturing Leadership Award for Operational Excellence.

The Synchrono Demand-Driven Manufacturing Platform enables the Industrial Internet of Things (IIoT) creating an environment where systems and machines are fully connected in real-time. The Platform is comprised of the following Synchrono systems:

- SyncManufacturing™: Demand-driven planning, scheduling and execution software.
- SyncKanban™: Pull-based inventory replenishment software for supply chain execution and collaboration.
- SyncOperations™: Data collection, historian and workflow engine powered by Savigent.
- SyncAlert™: Real-time alert management and escalation software.
- SyncView™: Real-time, synchronized visual factory information system.

The Synchrono systems may be implemented independently or collectively in a Platform environment. More information is available at www.synchrono.com.

About Synchrono
